Directly, fast, easy & safe!

The advantages of presenting software with One Touch Demo

- No installations necessary at the customer's site: Your demo software runs on the terminal server
- Testing in an uncomplicated way – with a surface which is easy to use
- Your software runs faster because of high performance, scalable terminal servers
- Multiple protection of access

Login via One Touch Demo Client

Your customers can experience immediately how uncomplicated and reliable your software is working!

With OneTouchDemo access to your software demo trial is very easy: you receive a plug-in for your website (e.g. ASP, PHP) which makes the selection and registration quick and simple. After registering the customer gets his access data and link instantly by email for logging in for the software testing on your website. At no time no installation process is necessary and by using port 80 no firewall interrupts the demo access.

OneTouchDemo offers some more features for your administration and sales personnel. You can achieve notification mails, which inform you and e.g. additionally one of your sales partners with the closest zipcode to your potential customer. Every time your customer is using the demo access you will be informed about that via notification mail. You can easily configure the settings for that notifications with the admin tool.

Blaze new trails with OneTouchDemo in sales, services and support

■ Fast and direct way to the software experience

Potential customers can have direct access to your software and can experience it online on their own, meanwhile you will get informed about their actions.

■ Support your customers online

You can join the session at any time and support or guide your customers through the process. That offers you the possibility of an active demonstration of your product. Individual questions can be solved during the demonstration process.

■ Everything in view and under control

You are always informed about the actions of your customers - e.g. you will get a notification mail while immediately after their registration. Statistics give you an overview of your potential customers. And you are always fully in control: With access rules you can set e.g. the duration of the testing phase...

Communication with One Touch Demo

The connection to the terminal session is set up via client.
